York-Poquoson Sheriff's Office Investigates Vandalisms

Yorktown, February 1, 2006 – The York-Poquoson Sheriff's Office is investigating two reports of vandalism from shooting. It is believed that this occurred between Sunday night and Monday morning (1/29/06-1/30/06). Someone shot several windows out of offices and the new Williamburg Community Hospital that is under construction in the 6000 block of Mooretown Road. It appeared that a large caliber pistol had caused the damage.

Numerous bullets that were shot into a residence damaged a vacant home in the same area. This residence was located in the 6200 block of Old Mooretown Road. The Sheriff's Office is investigating this case and is asking anyone with information to call the crime line. Callers do not have to leave their name or testify in court.

In another unrelated issue, the York-Poquoson Sheriff's office is looking for the owner or a wedding dress. Lt.
